FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NY, USA - Karin Bar, a renowned visual artist, is pleased to announce her latest exhibition, "Return to Sender," which explores the complex and often heartbreaking experience of refugees, displaced persons, and immigrants in today's world. Drawing inspiration from her family's history, Bar's work sheds light on the political and social realities that drive so many people from their homes.

Using artificial intelligence and photography to shape the visual elements of the work, Bar has created a striking color palette with plastic textures that capture the feeling of both despair and hope. "The American dream is only for some," notes Bar. "Some don't have the privilege to dream of it." With "Return to Sender," she challenges viewers to confront the realities of displacement and immigration, empathize with those forced to leave their homes, and advocate for a more just and compassionate world.

The exhibition is open to the public from March 22nd to June 8th at the ZAZ10TS lobby Gallery (10 Times Square, NYC).
